POLICE CLASH WITH SOCIALISTS IN BERLIN

Officers Try to Prevent Demonstration and Outbreak Is Result.

30 PERSONS ARE HURT

Is Repetition of Trouble Which Occured Short Time Ago Over Suffrage Bill.

BERLIN, March 6.—Serious conflicts between police and socialists involving a lengthly list of wounded, were the outcome of the most impressive open-air demonstrations in Berlin and other cities of Prussia today against the suffrage bill. About 30 participants were injured.

It is estimated that in Berlin alone 120,000 persons took part in what was called "a demonstrative stroll" in various parts of the city.

The chief of police of Berlin, fearing danger from the assembling of so many thousands in the popular park of Treptow, forbade a demonstration there. But the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts announced that the manifestation would be held in spite of the order of prohibition. This caused the concentration of a powerful force of armed police and gendarmerie in Treptow park, which left the remainder of the city virtually unguarded.

The socialist leaders this morning quietly and quickly passed the word to their followers to proceed to the other end of the city. These instructions were obeyed by 30,000 manifestants, who succeeded in accomplishing the stroll, almost undisturbed, while the others who remained around the park, came into serious collision with the police. The police in the most of cases, acted with the utmost moderation, obeying orders to avoid, as far as possible, using their arms.

It was the provincial gendarmerie who on this occasion came into the most serious conflict with the crowds.

Troops Guard Streets.

From an early hour the approaches to Treptow park, where it was announced the demonstration would occur, were barred by double and triple cordons of foot and mounted police. In the Unter Den Linden, and the streets leading to the palace, police cordons were drawn up every few yards. All troops in the Berlin garrisons, numbering 28,000, were confined to barracks. Thousands surrounded Treptow park. Residents of this section were permitted to utilize the park without interference and it was suddenly discovered that the number inside the inclosure was being augmented rapidly. The socialists had duped the police, rowing across the river Spree in small boats. But the police secured a flotilla of boats and intercepted the intruders.

Meantime one great company of socialists, estimated at between 30,000 and 40,000, silently proceeded to the fashionable Tiergarten at the west end of the city, which had been left almost entirely without protection. There they carried out a most peaceable "demonstrative stroll" with little interference.

They passed through the famous Sieges-Alle, or Avenue of Victory, which runs from Koenigs Platz, between the double row of statues of Prussian rulers. Several mounted police tried to disperse the crowds. Several arrests were made when a man mounted one of the royal monuments and tried to deliver a speech. Some of the leading socialists succeeded in making short addresses. One of them stood on the steps of the reichstag and spoke to a crowd of many thousands, at the same time unfurling a red flag.

Battle With Provincials.

The police, being [illegible] ed, could not cope with the vast crowds which, however, dispersed peacefully at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. When the emperor and empress drove in their automobile through the Tiergarten a little later it was virtually deserted.

The elevated trains and the street cars in the meantime brought additional manifestants to Treptow park.

STORM IS BREAKING

Bodies of Victims of Avalanche in Washington Removed [illegible]

WELLINGTON, Wash., March 6.—No bodies were recovered from the avalanche wreckage today, the workmen devoting most of their efforts to the dangerous task of taking the ones already removed from the snow down the mountain to Scenic. Thirty bodies were taken down the mountain and placed in [illegible] cars to be taken to Everett and Seattle.

The storm of the last two days cleared away and for the greater part of the day the sun was shining brightly. Late in the afternoon a light [illegible] began to fall. Good progress was made with the work of clearing the track and it is now predicted that the line will be opened to Wellington by the end of the week. As soon as the track is cleared and the railroad is able to get working [illegible] to the [illegible] of the [illegible] the removal of the dead will be greatly facilitated.

SENATE TO CONSIDER THE RAILROAD BILL

HOUSE WILL RESUME VARIOUS APPROPRIATIONS.

Postal Savings Due for Several Weeks' Oblivion in Committee. Dreary Discussions.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The postal savings bank bill will be received by the House tomorrow and promptly sent to several weeks' oblivion in committee. The administration railroad bill will have the center of the Senate stage and the House will continue its consideration of appropriation bills.

Dreary discussions probably will be the order of business for the next few days, or until Congress has warmed to another of the administration policies.

Before the railroad bill is taken up in earnest it is likely that the agricultural bill will be put through the Senate. This will not take long, however.

Members of the House are beginning to analyze the amendments made to the Postal savings bank bill last Saturday. The one that is causing the most comment is that which will prevent postal funds from being invested in 2 per cent government bonds, while making all higher interest bearing securities available for such investment in time of war or other exigency.

Practically no contest was made against this amendment when it was offered by Senator Borah. It was accepted by Senator Carter, who had charge of the bill and the votes against it were few. In the light of President Taft's New York speech calling attention to the obligation of the government to see that the holders of the 2 per cent consols should not suffer loss and suggesting that the government give the holders relief by using postal funds to buy these low class bonds, some members of Congress see in the Senate action a direct slap at the President. In only one other way is the adoption of the amendment explained and and that is by the fact that those who were in charge of the bill believed it could be passed only by making concession to insurgent senators. It was charged on the Democratic side that the adoption of the Borah amendment was not in good faith and that it would be dropped in the House and finally eliminated in conference.

Hold Bills in Committee.

In informal conference at the White House last week it was agreed that the administration bills shall be held in committee until the appropriation bills are passed. If this is passed Chairman Weeks of the com-

IS A MORAL ISSUE

Former Forester Pinchot Tells New York Audience Why Conservation Will Be Victorious.

NEW YORK, March 6.—"The time will come when the whole world will be brought together in one family to consider its resources," said Gifford Pinchot today in addressing an audience of 2,500 in Carnegie hall. "The principle of conservation as stated by President Roosevelt meets with the approval of all the people of the United States, so why should it be repeated so often.

"For that reason that there is a vigorous, well organized, clear cut opposition to the movement. We find that the average citizen believes in the usefulness of the work, but not action. You find the line sharply drawn between public and special privilege. The principles of conservation are those that govern the cost of living, of water power, of wheat, of all the things susceptible to the influence of monopolies. The individual is fighting under this motto that the exclusive ownership of commodities and natural resources makes for excessive wealth for the few.

"The reason that the conservation movement is going to win is that it is a moral issue. The question is, shall every man and woman in this country have a fair share of the national wealth?

"Conservation means the application of common sense to the control of natural resources, but behind all that it means fighting for the common human rights for all the people. For that reason it is to be supported by the whole nation."

SON OF UNITED STATES JUDGE BECOMES MANIAC

SEATTLE, Wash., March 6.—Harry Hanford, the 19-year-old son of United States Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, was arrested tonight in his father's [illegible] covered with blood, fighting and shrieking in insane fury.

Judge Hanford gave to the press a statement saying his son Harry became a violent maniac tonight; that he and his son William endeavored to restrain the the boy and that in the physical conflict both the judge and William Hanford received injuries on the head. The statement says the injuries are not serious.

COLDER WEATHER COMING.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Colder weather this week is the forecast made by the weather bureau tonight. This colder weather, which appeared in the northwest today, will [illegible] the central valley and lake region [illegible] and [illegible] the Atlantic seaboard [illegible] night and Tuesday. In the latter half of the week a disturbance from the Pacific will cross the country.

PHILADELPHIA MINT TO BE GUARDED BY TROOPS

Official Rapid Transit Company Says Fight Is to Be Carried to Bitter End.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 6.—[illegible] Twenty-fifth [illegible] Infantry, located at Fort Dupont, Del., will be sent to Philadelphia to guard the Philadelphia mint and other government property.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—Philadelphia's first Sunday under the general sympathetic strike, beginning peacefully, ended turbulently with a fatal shooting of a woman by a police officer as a climax. Employers feel inclined to believe that the trouble will be short lived.

The traction company operated 800 cars today and 200 tonight. This latter fact probably had much to do with the disturbances of the evening. A shot was fired in a disturbance at Twenty-sixth street and Lehigh avenue, one man being slightly injured. This trouble was quickly quelled.

The strikers' committee of 10 issued a statement tonight, which in part follows:

"The second day of the general strike finds labor's force militant, with nearly every organized worker on strike, and with thousands of the unorganized preparing to join in this demonstration. To those reported yesterday as having answered the strike proclamation, thousands will be added Monday, who worked Saturday to protect the stock and property of their employers.

"The people are thoroughly aroused as to the meaning of this fight. They realize that it is a struggle between corporate interests and human rights as guaranteed by the constitution of the United States. Mass meetings of citizens held in the last 48 hours disclose the enthusiasm and determination that prevails among the rank and file of the people, and clearly demonstrate the correctness of our position.

"Realizing that the fight has just begun (providing the traction company officials do not immediately settle their disputes with the car men or submit the same to arbitration) this committee is preparing for the complete organization of the entire city."

Every striking labor local is directed to establish headquarters where its members shall report daily, and to hold mass meetings under the supervision of a subcommittee of the committee of 10. This provision is made, the statement says, that at such meetings "irresponsible and unauthorized speakers may be given no opportunity to incite riot or unlawful action."

The strikers will hold a mass meeting tomorrow afternoon in Labor Lyceum hall.

More Workmen Join Strike.

The committee of 10 today received word of several important accessions to the ranks of the strikers. Among those who, it is claimed, will quit work tomorrow are the carpet loom weavers, involving 6,000 men; the glass workers, 1,500; and shirt and laundry workers, 3,000.

CLEARING RAILROADS

Trains Delayed by Washouts in West Finally Reach Ogden, Utah. Traffic [illegible]

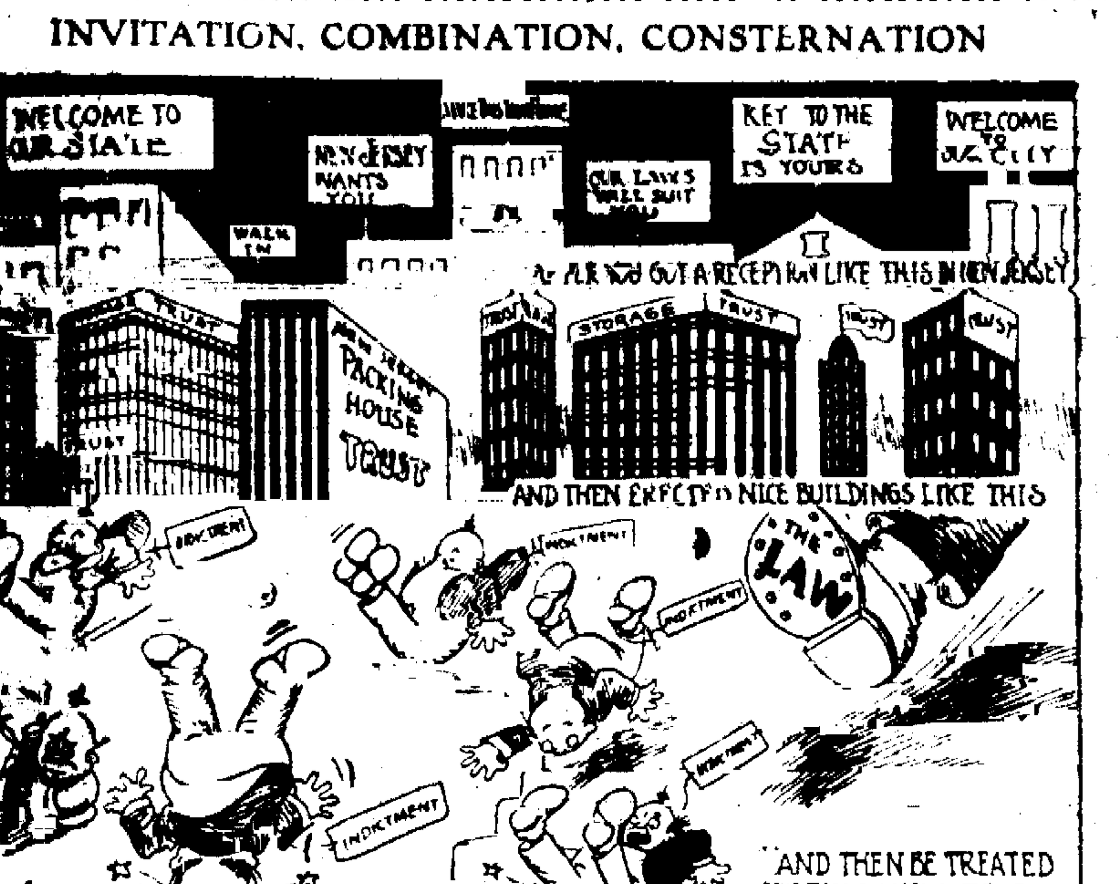

OGDEN, March 6.—Trains from San Francisco carrying hundreds of passengers, many of whom had been delayed 10 days on their eastward journey, reached Ogden at various intervals today, the first arriving at 4 o'clock this morning. This was the Overland Limited, which left San Francisco more than a week ago, but was forced by washouts in Nevada to return to Sacramento, from which point it was rerouted to Portland and thence to Ogden. Delayed mail and baggage were also a part of the train's burden.

Other trains continued to reach Ogden over the Oregon Short Line this evening and officials in answer to reports that further flood damage occurred Saturday gave assurance that the line is open for travel but explained it is heavily overburdened by the unusual travel and could not guarantee close schedule time.

Although a full week has elapsed since the first of the washouts brought disaster to the Southern Pacific transcontinental lines, officials tonight are unable to promise when the direct line will be able to resume travel. It will take seven or eight days at least, they say, to repair damage in Palisade canon. Stub trains are still in operation between this city and Carlin, and reports tonight indicate that further floods are not longer considered a factor.

Mail from California points which was posted February 26 reached here Saturday, and letters which arrived today had been delayed fully as long. The floods have interfered to a great extent with government weighing at this point.

INVITATION, COMBINATION, CONSTERNATION

MEET AT Y. M. C. A. AT NOON TODAY

Discuss Plans to Raise Funds for Tubercular Sanatorium for Poor.

Today at noon there will be a meeting and luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. to discuss plans for raising the remainder of the money needed to erect and to maintain for two years, the sanatorium for the tubercular poor.

The campaign starts off most auspiciously, and with every prospect of success. The proposed institution has the advantage at the outset of having a full block of land given to it, if it is able to erect a building which shall be permanent and enduring. There has already been subscribed $15,000 of the $25,000 needed to erect the building and to maintain it for two years.

This maintenance fund is deemed wise and necessary because it will require time to get the institution in good running order, and its income should be assured for at least two years, until its financial management can be placed upon a permanent basis. In time, the committee in charge of the sanatorium hopes to receive considerable sums from outside cities, lodges and other organizations and individuals who may be properly charged for the care of their sick who are temporarily in this city. But that will be a matter for the future, and of course can not be counted on for a definite source of income.

It is believed by the committee in charge of the raising of funds for this sanatorium that the response will be prompt and hearty, even though large sums may not be given. The two-fold reason for building the institution: that of caring for the poor who are unable to help themselves, and at the same time preventing contagion and the spread of the disease, seems likely to appeal to many people of generous and philanthropic instincts. The need is great, and is constantly growing greater, and it is the opinion of those who have the matter in hand that now is a most auspicious time to settle this important problem and build this much needed institution.

ADDRESSES CHINESE

W. J. Calhoun, Minister to China, Tells Natives of That Country to Learn Our Virtues.

CHICAGO, March 6.—Speaking in a Chinese restaurant, William J. Calhoun, minister of China, today told 40 Chinese [illegible] Chicago [illegible] Illinois, Wisconsin and Purdue, what he thought their purpose in being in this country ought to be.

"You ought to learn our virtues rather than our vices," he said. "The fact that you are studying in American universities indicates that when you return to your own country, you intend to be men of affairs. It is therefore important that you take back the best that is in this country and not the worst.

"It is only in recent years that the people in this country have paid any attention to China. But that was before we became world-wide traders. Now we are looking upon China much as China looks upon us as a help for each other."

Mr. Calhoun will sail from San Francisco for the orient on March 15.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF NEGROES

RACE WAR MAY BE RESULT OF TWO KILLINGS.

Prominent Contractor and Deputy Sheriff Shot by Colored Men at Palmetto, Fla.

TAMPA, Fla., March 6.—A serious clash is threatened at Palmetto, a small town 40 miles south of Tampa, as a result of the killing of two prominent white men by negroes this afternoon. The last message from the scene of the crime says that 200 whites with bloodhounds are pursuing several negroes, and if they are caught summary punishment will be meted out.

Late this afternoon when Sam Stribbling, superintendent for a prominent contractor of this city, disputed with a negro employe about wages, the latter shot him with a revolver, killing him instantly. The negro escaped. Telephone messages brought Sheriff Wyatt from Bradeltown with a posse and bloodhounds.

Later the negro was chased into the house of another negro who had Winchester rifles and a supply of ammunition. In the exchange of shots that followed, Deputy Sheriff Mathews was shot and killed. The officers then left for reinforcements and the negroes escaped from the house.

MILLIONAIRE PACKER ATTACKS RICH BANKER

Jere F. Lillis, Prominent in Kansas City Said to Be Victim of J. P. Cudahy.

KANSAS CITY, March 6.—Finding Jere F. Lillis, a millionaire local banker, in his home when he arrived unexpectedly at an early hour today, John P. Cudahy, a wealthy packer and son of Michael Cudahy, Chicago millionaire, is alleged to have committed an assault upon the man which led to his arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was released on a $100 bond and cannot be found.

Lillis is in St. Mary's hospital. His condition is said to be critical. Cuts, said to have been inflicted with a knife, are on his face, limbs and one arm. If he recovers he will be disfigured for life, it is averred by physicians.

Neighbors heard Lillis screaming and groaning in the Cudahy home and they called the Westport police station. It [illegible] who called, but her identity has not been established.

"A man is being murdered in the Cudahy home. Send an officer there at once," she screamed.

Since Cudahy's marriage to Miss Edna Cowin, who was a society belle of Omaha, on December 28, 1898, the family has been prominent here. On the day of the marriage Cudahy's father made him manager of his Kansas City packing interests. After a three months' honeymoon, which included trips on special trains and the occupancy of a palace in Italy, the couple returned here and purchased one of the finest homes in the city.

Society readily received them. They rented a box at each high-class theater by the year. Cudahy is a member of the Country, Kansas City, Elm Ridge Hunt and Polo clubs. For a time he kept many fine horses. Following an injury sustained when playing polo, he sold his stable and took up motoring.

The Cudahys have five children.

Lillis is a bachelor, 47 years old. He is manager of the Western Exchange bank and prominent socially. He holds memberships in the Kansas City, Country, Evanston Golf and Elm Ridge Automobile clubs. Often he has been seen in club rooms in Cudahy's company.

FATE OF BEEF TRUST IN HANDS OF GRAND JURY

Government Will Allow Case to Take Own Course Say Department of Justice Officials.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—"It is now for the federal grand jury to decide whether a probable case has been made out against the so-called beef trust, and the government officials will not attempt by any unfair or unusual means to influence the jury's action one way or the other. The case is in their hands and the responsibility is with them."

This statement in effect was made at the department of justice today at the conclusion of a conference on the beef packers' case, which was participated in by Wade H. Ellis, recently assistant to the attorney general in charge of trust cases; United States Attorney Sims of Chicago, his chief aide; James H. Wilkerson and Oliver E. Pagan of the department of justice. The whole case was thoroughly considered and the statement was made that the conference was in every was satisfactory.

Every one of the participants in the case emphasized the fact that practically every bit of the evidence the law officers of the government have been able to secure from any source had been presented to the grand jury.

The jury, it was believed, would be able to make its report within the next few days.

MEAT ADVANCE GENERAL

Statistics Show Upward Tendency in Prices in All Sections of the World.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Meat prices have advanced in all the principal consuming and producing sections of the world, according to statistics compiled by the department of commerce and labor.

The report shows the chief meat exporting countries of the world to be Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Canada and the United States; the chief meat importing countries, the United Kingdom, Germany and in a less degree the other European countries.

The advance in fresh meat prices is less than that in salted and preserved meats, and in nearly all cases the advance in beef is less than that in pork or mutton. The fact that the percentage of advance in the price of fresh meats, especially those shipped in the chilled or frozen state, has not been as great as the advance in salted or preserved meats, is said to be due to reductions in the last few years in the cost of chilling or freezing and of transporting meats of this class.

The advance in mutton is regarded as due to the comparatively slow growth in the world's supply of sheep.

Some of the statistics obtained by the department follow:

From Australia, in the case of beef preserved by cold process the export price advanced from $5.23 per hundred pounds in 1899 to $5.40 in 1908; mutton and lamb from $3.82 per hundred pounds in 1899 to $6.47 in 1908, an advance of about 3 per cent on beef and nearly 70 per cent in the price of mutton and lamb.

In Argentine the export price of frozen beef in 1897-1899 was $1.75 per hundred pounds and the price for 1900-1908, $4.35; of frozen mutton for 1897-1899, $1.75 per hundred pounds, and 1900-1908, $3.50.

Meat imports into the United Kingdom in the period from 1896 to 1908 show advances in nearly every case, the principal exception being fresh beef, of which the average price per hundred pounds decreased from $8.21 in 1896 to $7.96 in 1908.

The import price per hundred pounds of salted beef advanced from $5.33 to $8.15; preserved beef from $11.39 to $18.46; preserved mutton from $7.15 to $10.37, and pork from $7.57 to $8.56 per hundred pounds.

END COMES SUDDENLY TO FORMER SEN. T. C. PLATT

Once Famous Leader of Republicans Succumbs to Chronic Acute Brights Disease.

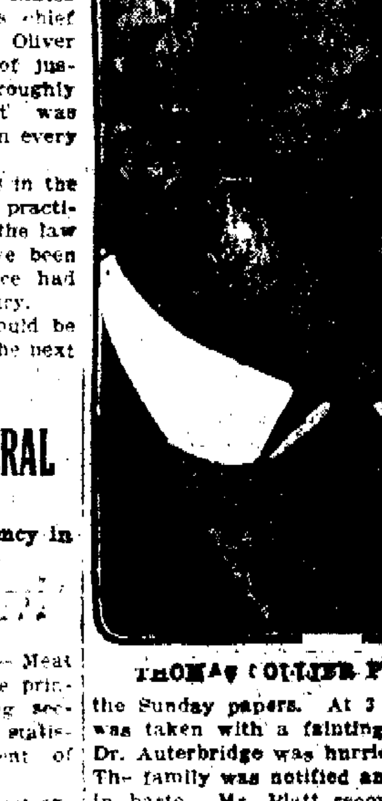

BURIED TODAY AT OWEGO

Was Man Who Persuaded Theodore Roosevelt to Run for Office of Vice President.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Thomas Collier Platt, formerly United States senator from New York and for many years a national figure in Republican politics, died at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Abele, on West Eleventh street, from whom he had rented three rooms for the last four years. Mrs. Abele had been his nurse.

Dr. Paul Auterbridge, his physician, said tonight that the cause of death was chronic and acute Brights disease. The body was removed tonight to the home of Frank H. Platt, a son, and will be taken on Tuesday to Owego, N. Y., the senator's birthplace, where it will be buried. Funeral services will be held today at the Presbyterian church in Owego.

The end was startlingly sudden. An hour before the senator died his two sons, Frank and Edward, with their families, and his widowed son, Harry with the latter's daughter Charlotte and son Sherman, had left the house after their usual Sunday visit. The senator said at that time that he felt very well and thought he would read the Sunday papers. At 3 o'clock he was taken with a fainting spell and Dr. Auterbridge was hurriedly called. The family was notified and returned in haste. Mr. Platt recovered from his first lapse but sank into unconsciousness again at half past three and died 15 minutes later. The relatives were all at the bedside.

Only last Wednesday Senator Platt was at his office downtown. For several years he had been in feeble health and latterly the use of his legs had almost deserted him, but his condition until today was not looked on as more serious than usual although a physician called on him daily. Thursday at breakfast the senator had a momentary fainting spell but rallied quickly. A year ago his feebleness was markedly accentuated and his life was despaired of for a [illegible] he recovered and went about his business as usual.

Dr. Auterbridge said tonight that the vitality of his patient was truly unusual. In spite of his feebleness, he took an active interest in affairs and refused to neglect his business until the dictates of nature imposed a rest. He was out of bed at 7 o'clock every morning and always early at his office.

END COMES SUDDENLY

lier and brighter days, was for many years not only Republican leader of his state, but a figure in national politics shoulder to shoulder with men of such rank and reputation as the late Matthew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania.

Both were men of exceptional intellectual attainments and both turned them, with signal success, to party organization. Quay died still a master; Platt outlived his time and felt it himself in late years out of touch with the moving spirit of events.

In "30 years in Congress," James G. Blaine described Platt as "a business man of great personal popularity. He has an aptitude for public affairs and is a man of strong influence in his state. He is no debater, but has strong common sense and a quick judgment of men."

Yet, with all his native judgment, wide experience and skill as an organizer, it is ame the fate of Platt to win remembrance more for his associations with others than for anything he did of his own initiative.

Twice in his life Platt was the center of the national stage once when he clashed with Roscoe Conkling from the United States Senate and was instantly christened "Me Too" Platt, and again when he induced Theodore Roosevelt to run for vice president with McKinley, very much against Roosevelt's inclination but in the face of his repeated declaration that nothing could induce him to be a candidate for the nomination.

It would not be a better instance of Platt's skill in persuasion and management or of the irony that mocked his every effort when McKinley was shot, Roosevelt became President, and the days of Platt's domination in the state lapsed into senility.

Strength Declined Rapidly.

His bodily strength declined rapidly. He had a second marriage which ended in the courts, and he was sued by Grace Wood, formerly a clerk in the government employ, for a divorce on the strength of a third marriage, never proved to have taken place.

The episode with Conkling, which was not exceeded in public excitement, say the newspaper files of that day, by any event in the Civil war, was as follows:

Platt was elected to the Senate in 1881. He and his colleague, Conkling, became embroiled with Garfield in a bitter controversy over the appointment of William Robertson to be collector of the port of New York. The selection was distasteful to the New York organization, and both Platt and Conkling refused to confirm it in the Senate. Thereupon President Garfield withdrew all other New York nominations made at their instance, among which were those of Stewart L. Woodford to be United States district attorney and Lou F. Payn, recently remembered as an "accelerator of public opinion," to be United States marshal.

Finding themselves in a hopeless deadlock, Platt and Conkling both resigned. Conkling was caught in the great blizzard of 1888 and died of exposure. Platt was supposed to be frozen out of politics, but he turned his attention to building influence in the southern tier of New York counties, became state leader again in 1894, and in 1897 was elected a second time to the United States Senate, succeeding David Bennett Hill.

Boosted Roosevelt.

He fell out with Gov. Frank Black, and to defeat Black's renomination, put forward Theodore Roosevelt, a type whose undeveloped possibilities he did not justly estimate. It was Roosevelt's rapid progress toward popularity and power that later led Platt to suggest him for the vice presidency, hoping that in the quiet of that dignified office he might be forgotten.

Platt was born in Owego, Tioga county, New York, on July 15, 1833, of Puritan ancestry. He entered Yale college with the class of 1849, but left in the middle of his junior year because of ill health. His father wished him to study for the ministry, but he never advanced further in that direction than to sing in the church choir.

A brief apprenticeship at literature was succeeded by more congenial employment in business. He prospered in Michigan in the lumber trade, returned to Owego and became president of the Tioga National bank, was chosen a director and later president of the Southern Central Railroad company, and in 1879 was elected general manager and secretary of the United States Express company, of which he became president in 1880, so remaining until his death.

In physique, Platt as a young man was pleasant in appearance, delicately built, restless and nervous. In later years his visage took on grimness. By his first marriage to Ellen Barstow of Owego he had three sons—Frank H., Edward T. and Harry B. Platt. He had been in feeble health for some years before his death.

GOLDEN CYCLES PLAY D. A. C. SATURDAY NIGHT HERE

The second of the series of games for the indoor baseball championship of Colorado will be played on the floor of the Colorado Springs Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening between the Golden Cycle nine of this city and the Denver Athletic club. The D. A. C. beat the Cycles Saturday night in the first game of the series, completely outclassing them in baserunning and hitting. Saturday's game may result differently. Should the Springs win, a third game will be necessary to settle the championship question.

The two teams will bat in the following order.

D. A. C.	GOLDEN CYCLES
Tullis, 2b.	Hastings, lf.

TERRORS TRYING FOR SPRING VACATION PRACTICES

Manager Frederick Kampf of the High School Terrors spent Saturday in Denver trying to arrange a series of games for spring vacation week. Negotiations are on for contests with the Golden and Boulder Preps. Both teams are fast and the Terrors may have a hard time winning from them.

The action of the Denver schools in withdrawing from the league and refusing to meet out-of-town teams except on open dates, has been a hard blow to the interscholastic organization. It may result in the state championship remaining unsettled at the close of every season.

Centennial of Pueblo has joined the southern division of the interscholastic baseball league and a schedule will be arranged within the next few weeks. The other teams in the southern division are the Terrors, Cutler academy and Pueblo Central. In the northern division are the Golden, Boulder and Denver university preps. The Denver city league consists of North East and West Denver and Manual high schools.

The High School athletic field here is being put into condition, and some hard licks will be put in this week. Some of the new men are showing up fine.

Coach Herve Hurlburt of Cutler has a big bunch of likely lads working every afternoon on Washburn field. Captain Flarman behind the bat, will be the mainstay of the aggregation, and expects to have a pennant winner.

LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION

Vigorous Campaign on for Favorable Adoption of Federal Registration Automobile Bill.

That the automobilists of the country keenly realize the necessity for federal registration of automobiles has been well illustrated as a result of the recent legislative convention held in Washington under the auspices of the American Automobile association. The strong plea made at the hearing in Washington before the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which is now considering the federal automobile bill, has been productive of most beneficial results in all of the large state associations and the more important clubs affiliated with the American Automobile association.

A campaign has been inaugurated by many of the leading clubs, and particularly throughout the state of Illinois toward impressing upon the members of the committee the great value of this national registration bill to the automobile industry at large, which has now come to be one of the great commercial interests in the country. While it is recognized that the benefits to tourists traveling from one state to another will be immeasurably improved by the adoption of this bill in Congress the fact is also admitted that it will directly and indirectly aid every department of motoring, whether for business or pleasure.

The deep interest shown by the members of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and their admission that the broad principles of the bill were just and reasonable, have been a great encouragement to the active motorists who have been working for equable laws on this basis during the last three years. Some minor changes to the bill have been deemed advisable and these are now being made, and the bill as amended will shortly be ready for definite action by the committee.

CORNELL COACH MAY MANAGE BISBEE CLUB

EL PASO, Texas, March 6.—A special to the Times from Bisbee, Ariz., tonight says that the directors of the Warren district baseball association today elected Dan Coogan, now coaching the Cornell university team, manager of the Bisbee club, and telegraphed him an offer which it is believed he will accept. Coogan is a graduate of Pennsylvania university. He is a catcher and has been playing professional ball for six years. Bisbee is spending money liberally in getting a winning team.

Little Lessons in Publicity No. 5

A half-dollar held close to your eye is larger than the moon.

A small displayed advertisement in a Daily Newspaper held at reading distance is larger than a car sign or a three-sheet poster.

It will also be read by more people, in quicker time, and at a lower cost than any other means would offer.

Any general advertising agent or the publisher of this paper would be glad to prove it.

COULON FINISHES KENRICK IN THE NINETEENTH ROUND AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—John Coulon, heavyweight champion, scored a knockout in the nineteenth round of his battle with Jem Kenrick, English claimant of this title, late this afternoon. This is Coulon's second victory over Kenrick within three weeks. In the first match he was given the decision at the end of the tenth round. A crowd of 10,000 people surrounded the West End Athletic club arena at McDonoughville, just across the river from New Orleans, and shouted themselves hoarse when the American put the tired Britisher down and practically out with a right jolt over the heart.

Kenrick staggered to his feet tottering just before the referee counted him out. It was apparent, however, that he had been finished and the fight was awarded to Coulon. Coulon's wonderfully fast work was a feature and he seemed confident of victory from the tap of the gong. Coulon's father and manager was his chief second.

Kenrick, veteran of ten years ring experience, fought aggressively but slowed down perceptibly toward the last. Jack Grace, veteran fighter and trainer, was chief second for the Britisher.

For the first five rounds the bout was fast and spirited, with honors even. After the fifth round Coulon began to wear his opponent out. Lefts to face and rights to the stomach were used by Coulon many times. He played for Kenrick's body in the early rounds and later split Jem's lips and nose with straight punches to the face.

Coulon was a hot favorite in the betting. Two to one were the odds against Kenrick at ringside but there were few takers. Coulon, who finished fresh and virtually unmarked, embraced Kenrick and supported the beaten man to his corner at the end of the bout and received a great ovation. He grasped the stars and stripes and waved them above his head while Kenrick was being revived on the other side of the ring.

WHITE SOX BREAK EVEN

First Squad Loses to Oakland and Defeats San Francisco—Recruits Do Well.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 6.—The first of the squad of the Chicago White Sox won a game and lost one here today. In the morning the Oakland team of the Pacific coast league won, 2 to 0, in an errorless game and in the afternoon the Chicago players beat the San Francisco team by a score of 9 to 3. The White Sox could not hit the Oakland pitchers, but in the afternoon they were in better form. All of Comiskey's recruits made a good impression. Scores:

Morning Game.

Chicago—0, 2, 0
Oakland—2; 5; 0
Batteries: Walsh, Olmstead, Sutor and Owens, Bloch; Christian, Tonneson, Nelson and Spiesman, Lewis.

Afternoon Game.

Chicago—9; 15, 2.
San Francisco—2; 9, 2.
Batteries, Scott and Owens, Bloch; Ames, Berger, Mickle, Griffin and Berry.

BASEBALL RECORD VALUABLE

Frequently it is the desire of baseball enthusiasts to trace the work of the young players who begin their careers in the smaller leagues and progress by easy stages to positions of importance in the major leagues.

For all purposes of this kind there is nothing which is better than Spalding's Base Ball Record. It contains all the records of the minor and major leagues and is published long in advance of any other work. This year there will be more minor league players in the major leagues, than have taken part in the games for some time. The 1910 edition of the Record, which is now to be had, contains what all of these men did during the season of 1909, and the curious baseball "fan" will have little trouble in tracing the work of those players in whom he happens to be interested. From year to year the Record constitutes a source of baseball information which is invaluable.

The Baseball Record will be mailed postpaid by the American Sports Publishing company, 21 Warren street, New York, upon receipt of 10 cents.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

Cheerfulness and a bright disposition during the months before baby comes, are among the greatest blessings a mother can bestow upon the little life about to begin. Her happiness and physical comfort will largely govern the proper development of the health and nature of the child. Mother's Friend contributes much to the mother's happiness and health by the relief and mental comfort it affords. It is a liniment composed of penetrating oils and medicines which lubricate the muscles and tendons of the body, soothe the swollen mammary glands, cause a gradual expansion of the skin and tissues, and aid in the relief of nausea. The regular use of Mother's Friend greatly lessens the pain and danger when baby comes, and assures a quick and natural recovery for the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book, containing valuable information for expectant Mothers.

MANY CASES PENDING IN SUPREME COURT

Several States and United States Appear in High Tribunal This Week.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Seven states and the United States are to appear this week before the federal supreme court in defense of rights asserted or laws enacted.

The state of Nebraska is concerned over maintaining the constitutionality of her grain elevator law of 1905. The Missouri Pacific Railway company failed to comply with the law requiring railroads to construct switch connections for grain elevators with a capacity of 15,000 bushels, located along their rights of way.

Once again the controversy between the state of Kentucky and the National bank over the taxing of the latter's stock, has come to the court.

Arkansas comes into the court in defense of her antidrumming act. The law forbids the drumming or soliciting on trains by physicians, masseurs, bath houses, boarding houses or hotels. It was designed to protect invalids traveling to Hot Springs. A. L. Williams, a boarding house keeper, was arrested in 1908 on a charge of soliciting for his boarding house in Hot Springs. He claims the law interferes with his rights.

Minnesota has complained of illegal cutting of timber on her school lands. She is seeking, in a suit against the Shevlin-Carpenter company, to recover thousands of dollars for timber alleged to have been cut without permission.

Government vs. Railroad.

The United States is interested in a naturalization prosecution, and in a suit to determine whether a railroad leasing or otherwise procuring the right to use tracts of another land-aided railroad is entitled to full pay for carrying the mails or whether it is subject to a 20 per cent reduction.

The naturalization question arises in the case of the United States against Gustav Holmgren of California. He was indicted on a charge of swearing that he had known for five years in the United States Frank Werta, an applicant for naturalization, whereas it is alleged he had known him only four. The oath was made in a state court but Holmgren was prosecuted on the charge of perjury in a federal court. The question has been raised whether the federal courts have jurisdiction in such a case.

The question of pay for carrying the mails arises out of the contract of the postoffice department with the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway. The dispute is over the service from Lemars to Sioux City, Ia.

where thousands moved about in a harmless manner until about half past 3 o'clock, when a message came that a successful "stroll" was going on in the Tiergarten.

Thereupon about 50,000 with one accord set out toward the Tiergarten, five miles distant, without attempting an organized procession. When they had covered about a quarter of the way a company of country gendarmes, without a word of warning attacked the people fiercely with their sabers cutting right and left. Five persons were dangerously wounded and hundreds received serious wounds and bruises. More than 100 arrests were made. The crowds continued their way across the city in small groups, which later were dispersed without reaching their destination.

Some of the more determined demonstrators then endeavored to break through the cordon of police and force their way into the park, but they met with sharp repulse, the police using their sabers and some, their revolvers. Here a considerable number of persons were wounded.

Until a late hour tonight all the streets leading to the palace, the imperial chancellor's residence and the Prussian parliament were guarded by police but no demonstrators appeared. Reports from the provinces show that in most cases the demonstrations passed off peacefully.

The suffrage demonstrations passed off peaceably in Hanover, where 40,000 gathered, in Brunswick, where 30,000 took part in the public meetings, at Dusseldorf, at Altona and at Bielefeld, where from 20,000 to 30,000 Socialists took up the project.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience —a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of the the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

What the Press Agents Say

PANTAGES VAUDEVILLE OPERA HOUSE

The Pantages vaudeville circuit is one of the leading vaudeville systems of the Pacific and western territory. This circuit has theaters in the largest cities in the west and the acts which play these houses are strictly first-class and generally are acts that come direct from the Keith-Proctor, the Percy Williams and the Orpheum circuits.

Manager Nye has made arrangements to present one of these Pantages bills at the Opera House Thursday and Friday of this week with three performances daily. Seats will be reserved for the first performance at night at the regular Opera House vaudeville prices. The bringing of this bill to this city is on the order of an experiment.

The acts playing the Pantages circuit lose one week between San Francisco and Denver and there is a movement on foot to break the jump by playing a few days in this city each week, but the bills are very expensive as they include only the finest class of acts, that Manager Nye wished to try out the scheme before definitely making any arrangements.

The bill coming here this week is headed by the famous trick mule, Maud, and includes four other first-class acts.

MAX FIGMAN IN "MARY JANE'S PA"

Max Figman will be seen at the Opera House next week in his latest comedy success, Edith Ellis' "Mary Jane's Pa," which scored such a long run in New York and Chicago and in which Figman won such unstinted praise from the press of San Francisco.

Miss Edith Ellis, author of "Mary Jane's Pa," believes that the stage is the best medium for propagating the question of woman's suffrage, because suffragettes are seeking accessions to their ranks from the class of women who usually patronizes the theater.

Miss Ellis asserts that "Mary Jane's Pa" offers a practical argument for woman's suffrage, in that it shows a mother, the head of the family, deserted by her husband, doing a man's work, and fighting a man's battle in support of herself and her children.

Mrs. Clarence Mackay, who is best known of all the society women supporting the suffragette movement, was a frequent patron of "Mary Jane's Pa" during the long New York run of the play, and concurs in the author's opinion.

VALUABLE LAND OPEN

No Lottery System to Be Used in Distributing 10,000 Acres in South Dakota.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Secretary Ballinger has announced the completion of the second unit of the Belle-fourche, S. D., irrigation project, embracing 10,000 acres, divided into 40 and 80 acre farms. These farms are available for entry under the homestead and reclamation laws.

No lottery system is to be employed, settlers being required, after making choice of a farm, to file their entries in the local land office. A cash payment of $3.40 per acre must be made at the time of filing to cover the first installment of the building, maintenance and operation charges.

The area opened to entry includes some of the choicest farms in this project, situated close to a railroad, near private lands that are selling for $25 to $50 per acre without water rights.

The entire cost of water right for a 40-acre farm is $1,200, payable in 10 annual installments of $120 each without interest on deferred payments.

ANOTHER RECORD GONE

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—A world's record for stock cars for the 50-mile distance was broken here today by Al Livingstone in a Corbin car and Ray Harroun in a Marmon. Livingstone won the race in 48 1-5. Harroun made it in 50 1-5. The former record held by Charles Burman, was 51 15.

PHILADELPHIA MINT

Central Labor union, predicted that 150,000 men will be out tomorrow and that practically every important industry in Philadelphia would be tied up. The strikers' estimates of the number now on strike vary from 100,000 to 125,000.

Director of Public Safety Clay this afternoon issued a statement on the extent of the sympathetic strike. The figures were obtained by the police and are declared to be authentic. The list of establishments affected contains 18 names, with a total of 3,070 men on strike. To this is added a list of 11 concerns affected the number of strikers not being given. The number of establishments unaffected by the walk-out is 24, employing 38,935 persons. The list of unaffected concerns, with the number of employes not given, also contains 24 names. These figures, Mr. Clay declares, are obtained after a careful canvass. Upon these he bases an estimate of less than 20,000 participants in the sympathetic strike.

Among concerns whose men walked out are the Harwick and Magee Textile company, 1,000 men; the American Lace company, 500, John Blood and company, hosiery, 350; Dornan brothers, textile, 250.

It is stated by a city official that the strike is adding $30,000 a day to the expense of running the city. A representative of the transit company said that up to yesterday the beginning of the third week of the strike, the total cost to the company had been between $750,000 and $800,000. Asked how long the company could stand the expense he said:

"That is less than $1,000,000. The company is ready and willing to spend several millions if necessary to win out in this fight. It is a huge price to pay but we have to pay it to retain the privilege of running the company and managing the property for the stockholders and the public."

Timothy Healy, national organizer of the Stationary Firemen's union, has apparently failed in his promise of support to the street car strikers. He proclaimed last week that at a moment's notice he could entirely cripple the transit company by calling out every employe of the power houses. Thus far he has made no show of carrying out his promise.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

SENATE TO CONSIDER

mittee on postoffices and postroads can be trusted to keep the postal bank bill bottled up until the time is propitious for its passage in the House.

The Senate will have an opportunity within a few days to compare the majority and the minority views of the committee on interstate commerce in regard to the administration railroad bill. The majority report which will support the bill in the form in which it was finally drafted by Attorney General Wickersham is ready for presentation tomorrow. Under an agreement already reached, it will be printed in the record in connection with the report of Senators Clapp and Cummins, which was presented several days ago.

While the debate on the railroad bill is likely to last several weeks, Republican Senate leaders have promised President Taft that it will be passed without material change. Unquestionably this attitude will provoke acrid discussion accompanied by condemnation of what is termed White House domination.

All reports from the Senate committee on territories indicate that the statehood bill is in trouble and that Senator Beveridge will have difficulty in getting it passed. The exact cause for the delay is not apparent, beyond the dissatisfaction expressed with the qualifications for voting in the proposed new states. Senator Beveridge continues to insist that it will pass. He expects soon to be absent from the city for several days, and the hearings will go over until his return.

Congressmen Need Help.

Another effort is being made in the House to have a small omnibus public bill in order to give some assistance to certain districts whose Congressmen are in distress. The Senate is opposed to the bill, however, and points to the large rivers and harbors bill in support of its objections to another pork barrel measure at this session. The latter bill probably will not be brought out of the committee before March 15 or 20.

Little discussion is heard concerning the conservation bills and the court injunction bill which are in the President's program. The reason is said to be that leaders believe if action on these measures is delayed, they can be brought out of committees and passed with comparatively little debate in the last few days of the session.

The postoffice appropriation bill is still before the House. All last week was occupied by members in making political speeches. Consideration of the measure will require several days more. The naval bill is about ready to be reported, but the legislative, executive and judicial bill will be next in order in the House.

Many important features of the administration railroad bill remain to be considered by the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce and it can not be forecast when the bill will be reported.

According to a report of the forest service, Washington, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Wisconsin, in the order named, lead in producing the country's lumber supply, whose valuation for last year exceeds $660,000,000. Texas, Michigan, Oregon, Minnesota and Pennsylvania came after the first five states.

WISHING TOO MUCH

From M. A. P.

When Wilberforce was a candidate for Hull his sister offered a new gown to the wives of all the freemen who voted for her brother.

"Miss Wilberforce for ever," shouted the enthusiastic crowd when she made the announcement.

"Oh, no, gentlemen," she replied, smiling. "It is very good of you, but I really do not wish to be 'Miss Wilberforce' for ever!"

A new house has just been completed at Shefford, England, and it is said to be the first one built there in 50 years.

THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION.

IN his plan to devote practically all of his vast fortune, variously estimated at from two to five hundred million of dollars, to the organization of a permanent charity of almost unrestricted scope, John D. Rockefeller, the famous Standard Oil magnate, contemplates the most gigantic work of philanthropy that the world has ever known. The first definite steps toward putting the project on a working basis were taken last week when a bill for the incorporation of what is to be known as the Rockefeller Foundation in the District of Columbia was introduced in the Senate by Senator Gallinger and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The object of the Foundation, as briefly expressed in the bill mentioned, is "to promote the well being and to advance the civilization of the peoples of the United States, its territories and possessions, and foreign lands in the acquisition and dissemination of knowledge, in the prevention and relief of suffering and in the promotion of any and all of the elements of human progress." As further explained by Mr Rockefeller's personal counsel, the fund will be non-sectarian so far as its distribution is concerned and will be adaptable for "any purpose at any time and at any place." For illustration, should there be a terrible earthquake or flood or other catastrophe in any part of the world that properly invited the world's aid, the income from the Foundation then being devoted to other purposes could be diverted immediately to the benefit of the sufferers. The Foundation, in short, is intended to be a universal charity for all time.

In its plan of organization the Foundation will be along the lines of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Education. It will be authorized to receive and dispense gifts of money other than those included in the original endowments and will be managed in much the same way. Its affairs will be in charge of a board of not more than twenty-five trustees, selected by the incorporators, Mr. Rockefeller, his son and three close associates and it is understood that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is severing his connection with business affairs, intends to become the active head of the organization and devote the rest of his life to this work.

GREATEST OF ALL BENEFACTIONS.

The greatest single endowment for a philanthropic purpose by an American multimillionaire thus far is the educational foundation of Andrew Carnegie, but both in the scope of his projected purposes and the size of the fund to be created, the Rockefeller Foundation promises to eclipse even it. Indeed it appears that the Standard Oil magnate is trying to outdo the former steel king in the munificence of his benefactions to the cause of human advancement. Already Mr Rockefeller has given away sums totaling approximately $131,000,000 mainly to educational institutions and for medical research, while Mr Carnegie has been getting rid of something over $160,000,000, but this last and probably final large charity of the former will give him a lead that the Carnegie millions will hardly last long enough to overcome.

The magnitude and possibilities of the Rockefeller Foundation are so stupendous that its full import can hardly be grasped, even when one stops to adjust his mind to thinking in hundreds of millions and contemplating the service such millions are capable of performing toward the uplifting of humanity. But of immeasurable importance though the gift be in itself, it has yet a larger significance. It is crowning evidence that men of great wealth in the United States, are coming to accept the altruistic theory that their obligation to society is commensurate with that which society has permitted them to acquire, and, more important still, to feel a genuine human sympathy with the poor whom the world has treated unkindly.

There are those who would decry Mr Rockefeller's gift and asperse his motive, but they are only such as can not in their own hearts grasp the plain truth that Mr. Rockefeller has come to realize that in the acquisition of his enormous wealth he put himself under a heavy obligation to his fellowmen and is sincerely desirous of making such restitution as he may. It can not be doubted that his example will prove the inspiration to many other men of wealth who have not yet reached his enlightened and broad point of view.

MOB SPIRIT AND THE LAW'S DELAYS.

IT was said in explanation of the Cairo riots last fall, which were duplicated on a smaller scale only a few days ago, that the people had grown tired of the law's failures to prosecute and properly punish criminals of all degrees and took the law into their own hands to voice their protest against slowness and inefficiency in the administration of the law.

It is brought out at the time regarding the crimes committed in Cairo and vicinity that had gone unpunished, or unless those guilty of them either were not apprehended or were acquitted in the face of strong evidence, not only showed appalling conditions in respect to criminality, but tended strongly to substantiate the claim that this was the real, actuating motive that led to the city's disgraceful exhibition of mob murder. And there is ample reason to believe, as is often asserted in explanation of the lynching fever, from periodical attacks of which almost no section of the country seems immune, that these outbreaks are often provoked by the laws' delays and failures to exact merited penalties.

But recent exhibitions of mob violence convey the impression that this theory has been somewhat overworked. In Florida last month a negro who had attacked a white woman a few days before was tried convicted and sentenced to death all within a space of fifteen minutes yet it was only by a strong show of resistance that a threatened lynching was averted. A more flagrant case occurred at Dallas last week when the negro assailant of a little white girl was taken from a courtroom where he was being given a prompt trial and strung up. This was one of the boldest acts of lawlessness ever committed by lynchers in this country and it goes to show as does the Florida incident that there is some more deep-seated reason for these usurpations of the functions of the law than impatience with its methods and results.

This is of course especially true in the south where little is needed to rouse a fixed racial antipathy into unreckoning fury yet it is undoubtedly a fact that in time this spirit would be brought under control were the punishment of the revolting crimes which most frequently bring it into play made consistently swift, sure and adequate.

WHAT HE "DONE."

From the Prairie du Chien (Wis.) Courier.

It begins to dawn upon the authorities and people of Chicago that Mr. John Walsh, banker and railroad owner was the victim of a plot to dispossess him of his own railroads and banking business.

While he done what bankers often do, and violated the technicality of the national bank law there was no intention to defraud.

SOMETHING OF A TALKER.

From the Tripoli (Mo.) Tribune.

Mrs. Nellie Burger of Clark addressed a full house at the Methodist church last Wednesday evening on the subject of statewide prohibition. Mrs. Burger has a national reputation as a lecturer and can outtalk a Gatling gun. She can wrap her thoughts in words and present them to her hearers with a grace and rapidity that almost dazzles you. The audience was a wheat separator and she was the feeder and it required no apparent effort for her to choke down the machine. She is too fast for the phonograph to record her speech or a moving picture machine to catch her movements. But she never made a bobble or a fumble and convinced all present that her sex had no thoughts of giving up the belt as the champion word slinger of the world. After being within the bounds of her voice for an hour we can to an extent fancy the speed of lightning and the gait of light.

ROOSEVELT'S RETURN.

From the Boston Transcript.

The reception to Mr Roosevelt in New York city next June, at which President Taft has been invited to be present, contains large possibilities of embarrassment for both. Huge crowds are remorselessly accurate in their expressions of favor. While the individual host may try to distribute his nods of courtesy among his guests a great city which is acting in that capacity makes known what it thinks of one man, by comparison with another, as clearly as does the 5-year-old boy at the table who gets a chance to speak.

On state occasions in New York at which it fell to the lot of ex President Hayes and ex-President Cleveland to take part the relatively greater applause for the latter was so embarrassing to him that he was put to his trumps to explain it away to his Ohio companion. Mr Cleveland used to say: "You must remember General Hayes that this is a Democratic city, these people here are all Democrats, and I am a Democrat, and so they applaud me. I should get the opposite treatment out in Republican Ohio." This was probably not altogether the case but it was as courteous an explanation as could be devised.

Regardless of all efforts to keep politics out of this reception, and to subordinate the "return from Elba" idea, a blind man can now see that Roosevelt would be the pre-eminent hero of such an occasion, with the real President of the United States in a decidedly secondary position so far as the public of the multitude are concerned. This would be quite as embarrassing to Mr Roosevelt as to anybody else. He has done everything in his power including his trip itself to distant Africa, to eliminate himself from our national concerns. It will be increasingly difficult for him to do so on his return to this country. It is too bad he cannot be made director-general of the Panama canal in order to give him an interest of his own apart from those of our home politics.

THE PHILADELPHIA STRIKE.

From the New York Evening Post.

In all conflicts between a great corporation and its employes, we have come to insist that some regard shall be paid to the rights of the public. In Philadelphia it is not merely a question of the public's right not to have its business life paralyzed but actually a question of the public's right not to be maimed and killed by the policeman's revolver or the rioter's club. At the same time we feel that the people of Philadelphia, in the present crisis, are not altogether guiltless. If they have rights in the matter they have also duties and these they have sadly neglected. For the situation would clearly seem to be that a very large section of the people of Philadelphia are in sympathy with the strikers' demands. Else we cannot understand the systematic wrecking and burning of cars, carried on with the precision of a sappers' and miners' brigade.

Last year the people's sympathies were almost wholly on the side of the strikers. The unholy alliance between the traction company and the powers that rule the city was brought into the light of day. It was made apparent that the men had been driven to strike because a corporation that had watered its stock to buy the politicians could not afford to pay a decent wage.

But if the sympathies of the people of Philadelphia do incline so strongly to the side of the strikers, why has nothing been done to prevent a repetition of last year's civil warfare? Why has not public sentiment forced some reasonable and permanent form of settlement between the company and its men? It may have the politicians remained in touch with the company's pay-box? The responsibility for riot and murder comes more clearly back to the people of Philadelphia than they may like to think. But, of course, the imperative duty of the moment is to restore order and preserve public safety, whatever it may cost.

SCHOOLS FOR TUBERCULOUS CHILDREN.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Following the lead of other big cities plans are being formulated to establish open air schools for tuberculous children in Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has the idea under consideration and will probably ask the school board and the board of health of the city to co-operate with it.

There should be no opposition to this move. Philadelphia is the only city of the first class that has no open-air schools and provides no means for educating these unfortunates who, though an ordinance, are prohibited from attending the regular sessions. Excellent results have been obtained by the plan in other cities. The schools have a two-fold benefit that of enabling the child to receive an education and of giving it pure fresh air under conditions that must conduce to strengthen it—something it does not obtain in the majority of cases when it is compelled to remain at home all day.

No matter from what view point one regards this idea there can be no fault found with it, and everything is in its favor. It is to be hoped that the municipal authorities will lend their aid to the project and assist in every way possible in the establishment of the schools. The lives and education of the little ones are sufficient arguments in favor of the plan.

BUSINESS AND RELIGION.

From the Kansas City Journal.

The fundamental idea underlying the Laymen's Missionary movement, under whose auspices a largely attended conference is being held in Kansas City this week, commends itself to the judgment of all who observe, on the one hand the visionary character of too many excellent moral movements and on the other hand, the too noticeable absence of the moral element in many lines of business. Business and religion, in the minds of a great many people are like the proverbial oil and water. They do not "mix." No movement could be more opportune than one which seeks to perform this feat in moral physics which is not nearly so difficult a task as that which confronts the physicist.

It would be trite to say that there should be more religion in business or even to say that there should be more business in religion—not commercialism or Mammonism, but the sound sane and up-to-date administrative judgment which is synonymous with the word "business." A business man is, in the popular conception a man who addresses himself to practice enterprises with an equipment which is best calculated to meet the practical problems that confront him. The complexity of modern life has long reflected itself in those manifold projects which involve both moral and commercial issues. There is a reciprocal relation between the pulpit and the pews which is being more and more clearly recognized, and the world will be evangelized much more quickly when the work of evangelization shall be directed with more acumen and a more pronounced recognition of the necessity for conforming to everyday conditions.

The Laymen's Missionary movement appears to be going about a very important work in a practical business' way. It may be said without effort at epigram that the sooner there is more business in religion the sooner there will be more religion in business.

The Daily Chit-Chat

Never worry over your ability to do your work unless you want to seriously diminish that ability.

That's the advice a big business man gave me the other day.

Six months ago, he went on, "I thought I had a stenographer that would last for years. She was neat and grammatical. She was accurate and quick to understand, and eager to learn. In fact, she was all around fine. That was when I first had her. And then I gave her a good deal of responsibility and she took to worrying. Couldn't drop a thing when she had finished it but kept going over it in her mind. Was scared to death she would make a mistake and when she did was so flurried that she made three more. In the end she got so 'up in the air' and made so many mistakes that I simply had to let her go.

I've decided there's such a thing as being too worry. She isn't half so smart or interested in the business as the first girl but she doesn't spoil her ability by worrying as to whether she's got any.

'I've decided there's such a thing as being too anxious to do well.'

That strikes me as pretty good philosophy.

I don't believe it ever pays to get into a the-world-will-come-to-an-end-if-I-don't-do-this-right state of mind.

'I'm going to do as well as I can and trust that will be all right' is a much more satisfactory attitude to take toward your work.

Mistakes are inevitable. The wisest men make them occasionally. But the wisest men don't add to the harm the mistakes have done by allowing them to shake their nerve.

Or if they do, they lose their right to the title.

Nothing saps a man's energy more than fear. And fear of himself and the mistakes he may make is just as bad as any other kind—worse I guess because he can't ever barricade himself from that kind and get a respite from it.

Crying over milk that may be spilt—as these foolish worriers do—is the very thing that will dim your eyes and make you stumble and do just what you dreaded.

The man who doesn't give a hang how he does his work and the man who thinks the world will come to an end if he makes a mistake are neither of them likely to reach the top of the ladder.

Has she?" they?

HYPNOTISM SLOWLY REPLACING DRUGS

PHYSICIANS USING IT AS CURE FOR ILLS.

Numerous Cases Where Nervous Breakdowns Have Been Averted by Thought Suggestion.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Because the people of this country work and live under high pressure overtaxing their mental and physical resources many of the leading physicians and scientists of the United States have abandoned drugs as the cure for nervous wrecks presented to them for treatment. It is becoming the fashion among many of the most brilliant practitioners to treat such cases with neither medicine nor knife. The new remedy is Thought, or the use of suggestion with the aid of hypnotism. There are physicians in New York, Washington and other large cities who say to the exhausted nervous society women: "You do not need medicine. You must teach your brain and your nerves to rest. You must receive into your mind the compelling message that the only thing which can help you is calm and repose. We can give it to you, but not by the use of medicines or drugs."

To the business man, who has gone under such pressure that he can control neither his nerves nor his brain they give the same advice. Hypnotism which was once regarded as witchcraft and later as an instrument only for harm, has become a benign influence on modern American life, a practical remedy for the distinctively American ailment of "nerves" and the mental troubles which follow. It has harmonized many a shattered nervous system. It has saved countless men and women from insane asylums, and it has been demonstrated as a reliable cure of certain cases of drug and cigarette habits.

A Washington physician who is known as one of the pioneers in the movement to treat the ailments of the brain by the curative force of a healthy and normal mind, recently had a young man patient who was literally a nervous and physical wreck from the use of cigarettes. He told the patient that hypnotic suggestion was the only possible cure for him, and the young man agreed to try it. For five different treatments he was hypnotized, and there was conveyed to his receptive mind by the physician this one thought: "You will never want to smoke another cigarette, but if you do it will make you feel deathly sick, so sick that you will never try to smoke again." After the fifth treatment, the doctor declared the cigarette victim cured. Two days went by without any craving for cigarettes on the young man's part. On the third day he attempted to smoke one, but was seized with such violent nausea that to this day he has never touched another cigarette.

Notable Instances.

A New York physician is authority for the statement that the number of nervous collapses and breakdowns among society women has grown to an almost incredible extent. A Washington doctor says that in addition to society leaders being broken in the fierce social competition, there are members of Congress and other government officials who break down under the strain. Both physicians agree that much of the nervous trouble is caused by the increase in drinking and smoking in what is known as "high society."

The New Yorker on one occasion treated a society woman who was plainly the victim of intoxicating drink. He asked her if she drank to excess and she manifested indignant surprise that he should ask the question. Finally, her explanation was that she drank nothing but absinthe, that she did this only when she needed it as a medicine, that she frequently became exhausted by her social duties, constant calls and late hours, and that absinthe was the only tonic which kept her on her feet. Upon his saying she must discontinue the absinthe drinking, she professed her utter inability to do so. After he had treated her by hypnotic suggestion she neither liked nor needed absinthe. She let it alone absolutely and in three months was again well and strong.

This same doctor had the case of a broker who had formed the habit of buttoning and unbuttoning the top button of his coat. It was merely an evidence that his nervousness was so great as to need an outward expression of some kind but it had grown to such an extent as to make him appear ridiculous to his friends and business associates. There was never a moment when his hands were free, that he was not buttoning and unbuttoning the coat. Of course, when he became convinced that he could not stop the habit, he at that moment did lose control of the situation. It was then that he went to the physician for the hypnotic treatment. It required only two treatments for him to become convinced that the buttoning of his coat was entirely ridiculous and unnecessary. The conviction came to him by the doctor's saying to him over and over again while holding him in a hypnotic sleep: "You are no longer nervous. You do not feel the need of employing your hands uselessly. And you will know when you awake, that the habit is ridiculous."

Brought Congressman Fame.

The Washington physician there came a man who had been constantly on the go throughout the social season. Physically, she was so nervous that her hands trembled and her mental distress was acute. She had become possessed of the haunting idea that she was always going to be late for the next particular function which she was to attend. That idea got possession of her nerve-racked brain and never left her. It is easy to conceive of the tortures she suffered and how she increased them day by day in her unceasing rush and haste. When she first went to see the doctor she could not sit still but paced up and down the room while she told him of her trouble.

He made her sit down, and, with a few passes over her eyes, put her to sleep, saying to her in a distinct, commanding voice: "You have lots of time for everything you want to do. At any time that you feel you have too many engagements you will break those which are too much for you. You will never hurry any more. You will never run from your door to your motor car. You will in all things be calm and restful. You have lots of time, lots of time." This formula was repeated to her through eight or 10 treatments until one afternoon, when she was awakened she said carelessly: "I've no intention of going to the 's ball tonight. I've been doing too much, and I'm going to take my time hereafter." From that minute she was cured.

Another case was that of a member of Congress who had been through a hard fight all summer and autumn for his nomination and election. It was his first term in the House of Representatives, and he had continued to work long hours every day after reaching Washington. In his state he was known as a speaker of unusual ability and he had planned to make his oratorical debut on the floor of the House during the consideration of a certain bill. As the time came near for the delivery of his speech, which he had prepared and committed to memory, he lost confidence and there came into his mind an awful dread of failure to impress his hearers when he spoke. This dread grew upon him so that finally he was convinced he would fail. This fear was the direct result of his failing nerves and the high pressure under which he had been working for eight months.

TWO SPRINGS WOMEN INJURED IN WRECK

IN ROCK ISLAND MIXUP AT SMITH CENTER, KAN.

Mrs. E. M. Gwin and Mrs. T. S. Golden Sustained Painful Bruises. Are Both Here.

Mrs. E. M. Gwin, 318 East Pikes Peak avenue, wife of a well-known mining man, and Mrs. T. S. Golden, wife of the auditor of a San Luis land company, living on Cheyenne boulevard, were painfully injured in the Rock Island wreck near Smith Center, Kan., Saturday afternoon, when the Rocky Mountain limited, westbound, jumped the track.

Mrs. Gwin sustained severe bruises on the body, and will be confined to her home for several days. Her condition is not regarded as dangerous, but her physician has ordered that she be kept quiet for three or four days. The condition of Mrs. Golden is not serious, although she also was badly bruised.

Both Mrs. Gwin and Mrs. Golden were in the Pullman when the accident occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Gwin had been traveling in the east, and Mrs. Golden had been visiting in Chicago. Mr. Gwin had been traveling about the country for the last 17 years, during which time he has visited the capital of every state in the Union. Saturday's wreck was the first in his experience.

A Rock Island claim agent from Topeka was in the city yesterday to see Mrs. Gwin and Mrs. Golden. Mr. and Mrs. Golden have been living at the Joyce hotel, but moved to Cheyenne boulevard last Saturday.

NIGHT LETTER SERVICE

Postal Telegraph Company Announces New Plan, Beginning Tonight.—Not Affiliated.

The Postal Telegraph-Cable company announces that beginning tonight it will furnish night letter service between all offices on its own telegraph lines and the lines of its direct connections in the United States. Messages of this new class will be known as "night letter telegrams." They will be accepted at Postal Telegraph offices over the counter, or by telephone in the usual way, for transmission at night and delivery at destination on the morning of the next ensuing business day, by mail or messenger, at the option of the company.

The charge for night letter telegrams of 50 words or less will be the regular day rate for 10 words, and one-fifth of this rate will be charged for each additional 10 words or less. They must be written in plain English. Code or cipher will not be allowed.

The company couples the foregoing announcement with a repetition of the statement recently made by President Clarence H. Mackay to the effect that the company has no intention of entering into any combination with the Western Union and Bell Telephone company.

According to French law a certain reserve is established which no testator can bequeath away from his offspring. A Frenchman with one child can dispose of half his property according to his pleasure, the other half must inevitably pass to the child.

JUDGE MORRIS TALKS ON "HERALD IN HASTE"

Y. M. C. A. Revival Meetings to Close With Three Addresses on Successive Sundays.

Judge W. S. Morris made an inspiring address at a meeting for men at the Crystal theater, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday afternoon. His subject was "A Herald in Haste," and he took as his text the story of Ahimaas, told in Chapter xviii of the Second Book of Samuel, deducing from it a number of lessons for his hearers.

"Youth," said Judge Morris, "is the time to do things. It is the time to build character. The notion of sowing wild oats is foolishness. When we sow wild oats we never know when we are going to be through with the harvest. Ahimaas knew how to accomplish his task, and that is the way we must all accomplish ours. Nothing is accomplished haphazardly, but only by well-directed effort. You can not get beyond the love of Jesus Christ. However deep you may sink in sin, he is always with you."

Judge Morris laid great stress on this last statement, and urged his auditors to always do their best, no matter in what circumstances they may find themselves.

This month will conclude the special series of Sunday meetings the Y. M. C. A. has been holding at the Crystal theater. Only three more meetings will be held. These will take place on the afternoons of March 13, 20 and 27.

WANT PAVING

Three Local Property Owners Are Enthusiastic, After Visit to California.

William Ord, and his sisters, Mrs. Kinney and Mrs. Belle Van Orden, owners of considerable property here, have become enthusiastic advocates of paving since their three months' visit in California. The paved streets of California cities seem so much better to them than the unpaved thoroughfares of Colorado Springs that they want the streets here paved at once.

Mr. Ord and his sisters returned home yesterday. The paving of streets abutting on their property would be expensive, but they believe that the value of their property would be so enhanced that paving expense should not be considered. Most of the California cities, whether large or small, have paved streets, according to Mr. Ord.

MISS CRUM TO WED KANSAS CITY WRITER

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Courtney Ryley Cooper, a writer on the Kansas City Star, and Miss Ethel Marion Crum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crum, 1342 North Nevada avenue. The wedding will take place next Saturday evening at the home of the bride. Mr. Cooper met Miss Crum when she was visiting in Kansas City two years ago. After the wedding, Mr. Cooper and his bride will make their home at 4144 Campbell street, Kansas City.

RUNS AGAINST A BIG POLICEMAN; IS ARRESTED

Joseph McGarvey, who about three weeks ago was arrested on a charge of disturbance and served a sentence of 10 days in jail, came into the hands of the law last night while creating a disturbance in a Huerfano street restaurant. According to the police, McGarvey created trouble at several places, and when Patrolman Worth, who is a very large man came along and asserted his authority, McGarvey, who is of rather slight build attempted to whip the officer. Naturally he received the worst of it, and was placed in a cell at police headquarters to await a hearing in police court today on a charge of disturbance.

PENSIONERS OF FIRST NAPOLEON

From the New York Evening Telegram.

Paris has a dozen old soldiers who draw pensions that come to them from the great Emperor Napoleon I, says Le Figaro. These are not heroes of his epoch, for the last of these died long years ago. But Napoleon, by his will, devoted several million francs to his companions in arms and this capital in default of heirs of the grand army was deposited in the public treasury. Today the revenue this fund produces is paid out in the form of pensions of 200 francs each to old soldiers in French territory, and Paris has 12 of the beneficiaries to whom at the first of the year these little pensions are forwarded.

A LESSON FOR OLDER FOLK.

Bess was told my little child that there were bears up-stairs in the dark, so she didn't like to go up at all. I told her there were no bears, and anyhow God is love, and if she would always say that to herself nothing would harm her. At last she was persuaded to go alone. As it got darker toward the top of the stairs I heard her saying aloud over and over "God is love—they isn't no bears. God is love—they isn't no bears."

There are 1,300 street and interurban railway cities in America, with a total of 25,000 miles of single track and 75,000 passenger cars. The total number of passengers carried annually is 30,000,000,000, and the gross annual income is $900,000,000.

"LOVE IS FORGIVENESS AND HATE DESTROYS"

Dr. W. F. Slocum Gives Strong Lecture at Colorado College Vesper Service.

"The Unchanging Love and Forgiveness," is the subject of the sermon preached at a Colorado College vesper service in Bemis hall last evening by President W. F. Slocum. An especially good musical program also was given. Dr. Slocum said in part.

"God never changes. He is a God of love, this is his principal character. To forgive is to love. The two words have the same meaning. Hate cannot love, hate destroys. Love implies personality, we cannot think of a force so loving. All of this shows us that there is a great, loving personality at the heart of the universe. Love and forgiveness are always to be had from the hand of God. He cannot hate; he only loves; and we may have his love if we will take it."

MAY LOSE EYE

Mrs. Stout Injured in Peculiar Accident—Two Other Casualties, Neither Serious.

As a result of an explosion of a cooking utensil at her home, 455 East Bijou street, Saturday, Mrs. Raymond Stout may lose the sight of one eye. The can in which the food was being prepared was air tight, and exploded, the steam closing both of Mrs. Stout's eyes. It is feared that the sight of one eye will be completely destroyed.

Miss Jessie House caught her arm in a mangle at the Colorado Springs laundry Saturday, and sustained a badly lacerated elbow. She will recover.

Henry Reed, employed at the Hassell Iron works, was struck on the same day by a piece of flying metal, sustaining a deep gash in his temple. His condition is not serious.

BLACK SPEAKS TOMORROW

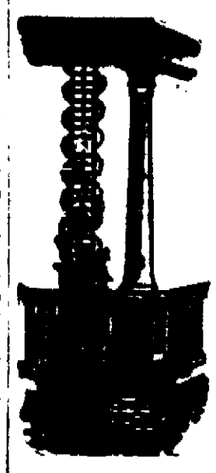

Eminent English Author and Preacher Gives Special Address This Week at Perkins Hall.

Owing to the address that is to be given in Perkins hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock by Hugh Black, the next regular lecture of the Colorado College lecture course will be postponed to a later date. The lecture was to have been given on "The Conservation of Energy," by Professor Florian Cajori.

Hugh Black is widely known throughout the English speaking world by various didactic literary works, being the author of "The Dream of Youth," "Friendship," "Culture and Restraint," and other works of a similar nature. In England and Scotland he is still better known as a preacher of unusual power and magnetism. He has been in this country as professor of practical theology in the Union Theological seminary for four years, but wherever he has been heard as a preacher, he has been greeted with the same enthusiasm that pervaded his audiences in Great Britain.

As announced a day or two ago, Dr. Black will deliver lectures on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week, on the general subject of "The Reconstruction of Theology." These addresses will be given at 8 o'clock in the evening in Perkins hall. While in the city Dr. and Mrs. Black will be the guests of President and Mrs. W. F. Slocum.

WALTHAM WATCHES

The Authentic American Watch

Everyone knows that Waltham Watches are good watches. When you buy a Waltham Watch buy only from a jeweler and buy one adjusted to temperature and position.

Do not buy a watch of a mail order house.

Jewelers are specialists who know how to regulate watches to your habit and occupation, how to fit them properly, how to detect any little disarrangement that may have occurred in transportation. A responsible jeweler who values his reputation will guarantee a Waltham Watch, and behind the jeweler's guarantee is that of the Waltham Watch Company.

When you buy a watch remember not only that Waltham Watches are the best, but that they were the first American Watches. Every watch-making device and invention of importance in use has originated in the Waltham Watch factory.

at once appeal to the most refined taste, by the simplicity and correctness of lines and the worthiness of construction. While wood bedsteads are in style, we find that metal bedsteads are preferred as a rule, and we are showing a variety of beautiful styles in beds to fit suites. A large stock to select from. Our close relations with the principal factories, and the fact that we load cars direct from manufacturers to our warehouses in this city, enables us to make prices to undersell competition, and in every case where manufacturers establish prices on their product to supply goods at manufacturers' prices.

ONE BILLION EGGS / MILLION CHICKENS

Are bought of Kansas and Nebraska poultry raisers each year. In other words, the citizens of Colorado pay for their chicken pie dinners and their ham and egg breakfasts to the poultry raisers of the other states the snug sum of $2,000,000 each year. These are statistical facts as you can easily ascertain from the records. You can readily perceive that the poultry raising business still presents a good field for the intelligent and industrious people who are looking for an opportunity to make money.

For the past five months eggs have sold at [illegible] cents to 50 cents per dozen and chickens are selling at 75 cents to $1.25 each.

There are larger markets but none better than Colorado City, Manitou and Colorado Springs, a [illegible] month hundreds of dozens of eggs are shipped here. Don't you think that the business is profitable? It presents a line of light work, plenty of fresh air, and above all else it is a money-making proposition.

But you ask, "where are we to secure land, small acreage at a reasonable price?" and we say," Read the next column which explains our offer."

For several years we have had many applicants who wished to purchase one, two or more acres of ground close to Colorado City or Colorado Springs. They have always met with the reply that small tracts of land were scarce and the price exceedingly high. Heretofore acre tracts, if obtainable at all, were priced at $1,000 and upward, so few sales have been in this class of property.

Now, for the first time it is our good fortune to be able to supply your wants in this class of Real Estate.

We have secured and platted into acre tracts a parcel of land lying just East and North of Colorado City, adjoining Colorado Springs on the West, only a few minutes walk from the Colorado Avenue car line. Situated as are these tracts you have the advantage of Rural, Suburban and City life, a beautiful view of the mountains, a splendid garden spot and an ideal place to call home.

These tracts are selling from $300 to $400 per acre. You can purchase one, two or more acres if you so desire.

These acre tracts are desirable as an investment and will rapidly increase in value, making a safe depository for your money.

IF INTERESTED IN OUR PROPOSITION, CALL AT THE OFFICE. WE WILL BE PLEASED TO GIVE YOU FULL INFORMATION AND SHOW YOU OVER THE LAND. TERMS. PART CASH, BALANCE TO SUIT.

GOOD LAND CHEAP

We have for sale for a short time, some of the best land we have listed the past year. It is fine fruit soil and good for any crop.

Any part of four hundred acres can be cut to suit the buyer at the wholesale rate.

When we say this is a bargain, we will make our statement good.

All we ask is an inspection of the land and you will buy it, all you can handle.

We consider some trade on this, for good income city property.

Let us give you particulars.
